

Contents

Acknowledgements vi

One Politics and Print Culture in Early Modern England 1

Two 'Unseemly Pictures': The Political Print and the Threat of 'Popery' 35

Three 'Exposed to the Hatred of All Men': Mocking the Monopolists 69

Four Anti-Episcopacy and Graphic Satire 101

Five 'Painters and Poets Dare Anything':<sup>1</sup> Civil War and the Picturing of Conflict 135

Six 'Religion is a Circle': Presbyterianism, Independency and Identity 169

Conclusion Dorislaus's Debts to the Past 199

Notes 208

Bibliography 230

Photograph Credits 244

Index 245