Introduction

Toward a Psychophysics of Hypermedia	XIX
Peter M. Fischer and Heinz Mandl

Part 1: Hypermedia and Learning

1. Problems and Issues in Designing Hypertext/Hypermedia for Learning	3
David H. Jonassen and R. Scott Grabinger
2. Hypertext for Learning	27
John J. Leggett, John L. Schnase, and Charles J. Kacmar
3. Popular Fallacies About Hypertext	39
George P. Landow
4. Models of Hypertext Structure and Learning	61
Peter Whalley

Part 2: Designing the Information Model

5. Macro-Operations for Hypertext Construction	71
Rainer Hammwöhner
6. Concepts as Hypertext Nodes: The Ability to Learn While Navigating Through Hypertext Nets	97
Ray McAleese
7. Graph Computation as an Orientation Device in Extended and Cyclic Hypertext Networks	117
Piet Kommers

8. Discussion: Formal and Informal Learning with Hypermedia	135
Philippe C. Duchastel

Part 3: Designing the User Interface

9. Evaluating Hypertext Usability	147
Jakob Nielsen
10. Hypertexts as an Interface for Learners: Some Human Factors Issues	169
Patricia Wright
11. Designing the Human-Computer Interface to Hypermedia Applications	185
Andrew Dillon

Part 4: Hypermedia and Instruction

12. Hypermedia and Instruction: Where is the Match?	199
Thomas M. Duffy and Randy A. Knuth
13. Learning About Learning from Hypertext	227
Terry Mayes, Mike Kibby, and Tony Anderson
14. Psychopedagogic Aspects of Hypermedia Courseware	251
Armando J. Oliveira and Duarte Costa Pereira
15. From Instructional Text to Instructional Hypertext: An Experiment	263
Wil A. Verreck and Anja Lkoundi
16. Journal Articles as Learning Resource: What Can Hypertext Offer?	277
Cliff McKnight, John Richardson, and Andrew Dillon
17. Hypertext/Hypermedia-like Environments and Language Learning	291
Othmar Foelsche
18. Collaboration in Hypermedia Environments	311
Martin Richartz and Tom D. R�debusch

Part 5: Hypermedia Design Process

19. The Hypertext/Hypermedia Solution - But What Exactly is the Problem? 321
Alexander J. Romiszowski
20. Evaluating Hypermedia-Based Learning 355
Gary Marchionini

Part 6: Conceptual Foundations for Designing Hypermedia Systems for Learning

21. Some Examples of Hypertext's Applications 377
Eric Bruillard and Gérald Weidenfeld
22. Hyperinformation Requirements for an Integrated
Authoring/Learning Environment 387
Max Mühlhäuser
23. Elaborating Arguments: Writing, Learning, and Reasoning in a Hypertext Based
Environment for Authoring 407
Norbert A. Streitz and Jörg Hannemann
24. Alexandria: A Learning Resources Management Architecture 439
Daniel M. Russell
