

Contents

Preface	ix
Introduction: Christian Labor in the Literature	1
Transition: Kolping, Ketteler, and the Origins of Christian Social Thought and Action	21
Chapter
1 The Center Party, the Kulturkampf , and the Collapse of the First Christian-Social Movement	37
2 Mönchen-Gladbach, Rerum Novarum , and Further Disputes over Christian Trade Unionism	61
3 The Emergence of Christian Labor	83
4 Centralization Efforts and the Question of Trade Union Politics	117
5 The Great Merger Controversy	133
6 Tariffs, “Center Party Unions,” and Grass-Roots Stagnation	159
7 The Frankfurt Workers’ Congress of 1903	181
8 Christian-National Blockpolitik	195
9 The Collapse of the Frankfurt Initiative and Trade Union Tactics 1907–1913	215
10 Rifts in the Tower: The Conflict over Modernism in the Center, Volksverein , and Christian Trade Unions	253
11 Financial Reform, Bourgeois Solidarity, and the Radicalization of Christian Labor on the Eve of War	285
12 Christian Labor and the Collapse of the Old Order	329
Summary and Conclusions	371
Glossary of German Words	381
Bibliography	385
Index	397