

Contents

Acknowledgement	7
Ulla Carlsson Foreword	9
Firdoze Bulbulia Introduction	11
Eryonam Osei-Hwere & Norma Pecora Children's Media in Sub-Saharan Africa	15
Francis B. Nyamnjoh Children, Media and Globalisation. A Research Agenda for Africa	29
Charles Owen SABC's Programming for Children	49
Steve Howard Children and Media in Muslim Africa. Senegal, Sudan, Nigeria	55
Priscilla Boshoff & Jeanne Prinsloo Engendering Childhood. Concerning the Content of South African Television Fiction	69
Tewodros Workalemahu Disney Kids. Ethiopian Children's Reception of a Transnational Media Mogul	83
Mastin Prinsloo & Marion Walton Situated Responses to the Digital Literacies of Electronic Communication in Marginal School Settings	101
Mimi Brazeau Celebrating Youth Media and Proposing a Way Forward	119

Sarah Akrofi-Quarcoop Beyond Child Participation. Tracking Progress of Media Education for Children and Young Persons in Ghana	133
Steven Goodman, Rebecca Renard & Christine Mendoza Drop It to the Youth. Community-Based Youth Video as a Tool for Building Democratic Dialogue in South Africa	149
Lamees El Baghdady Playing at Cyber Space. Perspectives on Egyptian Children's Digital Socialization	165
Frederick Nnoma-Addison Opportunities, Challenges, & the Way Forward	175
Patrick V. Osei-Hwere Children's Television Programs in Ghana. The Challenges of Local Production	179
Beatrice A. Boateng Television Broadcasting in South Africa. Mandates to Serving the Children	193
Juliet Evusa Children's Television in Kenya. The Need for a Comprehensive Media Policy Regulating Children's Content	207
Musonda Kapatamoyo Children's Television in Zambia. Local vs. Imported	219
Wenceslous Kaswoswe Television Programming for the Youth in Zimbabwe. Studio 263 and Handspeak	231
The Authors	239