

Contents

Preface: Rationale and Acknowledgements	v
Börje Holmberg: Scholar, Teacher and Gentleman Helmar Larsson	viii
Notes on Authors	xii
Chapter 1: Introduction and Summary	1
Distance Education as Individual and Social Interchange Gerhard E. Ortner	2
Chapter 2: Politics and Perspectives	19
Didactic Conversations about Prosperity, Politics and Peace John S. Daniel	20
Distance Education: A Revolutionary Concept Otto Peters	28
Independent Teaching Institutions: From Cooperation to Incorporation? Erling Ljoså	35
Distance Education in Developed and in Developing Countries Armando Villarroel	45
Relations between Universities: From Collaboration to Cooperation Lewis Elton	54
Distance Education Programs for Socio-Economic Development Andrew H. Joseph	63

Chapter 3: Theory and Methodology	75
The Theoretical Underpinnings of Distance Education Desmond Keegan	76
Information and „Formation“: The Change of Paradigm in Distance Education Miguel A. Escotet	88
Explanation, Theory and Practice in Distance Education Greville Rumble	102
Guided Didactic Conversation: The Use of Holmberg’s Concept in Higher Education Ian Mitchell	123
The Quest for Quality in Distance Education John J. Sparkes	133
Chapter 4: Technology and Information	147
Does Two-Way Communication Require a New Distance Education Technology? Gerhard E. Ortner	148
Computer Mediated Communication in Distance Education Torstein Rekkedal	171
Teleconferencing: A Step towards Synchronous Distance Learning Kari Lampikoski	185
Teleconferencing: Organisational Patterns and Research into Effectiveness Michael G. Moore and Melody Thompson	196
The Development of Information and Documentation Work in Distance Education Keith Harry	210

Chapter 5: Experiences and Expectations	225
The Birth of The Open University: The Unwanted Infant and its Children Lord Perry of Walton	226
Mass Higher Education: Where are We Going? David Sewart	229
Open Universities: The Innovative Model for Distance Education Bakhshish Singh	240
Two-Way Communication: From Correspondence to Distance Education Onkar S. Dewal	246
Distance Education and Internal Studies: Interlocking Study Modes Fred Jevons and Patrick Guiton	252
The Development of Creativity in Distance Education Horst Möhle	263