Chapter Ten Alternatives to Direct Instruction 366

Affective Goals	369
Why Study the Affective Domain?	369
Explicit and Implicit Affective Goals	370
Attitudes	371
Values	373
Classroom Discussions	376
Content-oriented Discussions	378
Discussion Strategies: Aids to Textbook Comprehension	381
Affective Discussions	383
Small-group Discussions	385
Other Alternatives: Students as Resources	388
Peer Tutoring	388
Cooperative Learning: The Team Approach	391
Cooperative Learning: Group Investigations and the Jigsaw Techniques	392
Technology and Teaching	394
Computers in the Classroom	395
Videodisc Technology	398
Exercises	399
Feedback	400
Discussion Questions	401
Applying It in the Schools	402

---

Chapter Eleven Effective Classroom Assessment 404

Functions of an Assessment System	408
Characteristics of Effective Assessment	409
Validity	409
Systematic Assessment	410
Practical Assessment	411

Classroom Assessment: Testing	416
Testing and Achievement	416
Effective Testing	417
Preparing the Students	421
Administering the Test	422
Examining the Results	423
Classroom Testing: Implications for Teachers	424
Designing an Assessment System	426
Grades and Grading	428
Seatwork and Homework	430
Communication	432
Communication: Expectations	432
Communication: Report Cards	436
Exercises	440
Feedback	442
Discussion Questions	443
Applying It in the Schools	444
