

Contents

Preface	xi
The Author	xxiii
1. What It Means to Be a Critically Reflective Teacher	1
2. Becoming Critically Reflective: A Process of Learning and Change	28
3. Learning to Know Ourselves: The Value of Autobiography	49
4. Surprised by the Familiar: What Autobiographies Reveal	71
5. Seeing Ourselves Through Our Students' Eyes	92
6. Understanding Classroom Dynamics: The Critical Incident Questionnaire	114
7. Holding Critical Conversations About Teaching	140
8. Solving Problems Collaboratively: The Good Practices Audit	160
9. Storming the Citadel: Reading Theory Critically	185
10. Using the Literature of Critical Reflection	207
11. Negotiating the Risks of Critical Reflection	228
12. Creating a Culture of Reflection	246
References	271
Name Index	289
Subject Index	293