
Contents

Preface	vii
Introduction Marcia Landy	1
<hr/>
Regarding History
<hr/>
How to Look at an "Historical" Film Pierre Sorlin	25
The Historical Film: Looking at the Past in a Postliterate Age Robert A. Rosenstone	50
Making History George F. Custen	67
Historical Pleasures: Gainsborough Costume Melodrama Sue Harper	98
<hr/>
History as Trauma
<hr/>
Projecting Ancient Rome Maria Wyke	125
"You Remember Diana Dors, Don't You?" History, Femininity, and the Law in 1950s and 1980s British Cinema Marcia Landy	143
The Presence of the Past: Rainer Werner Fassbinder's The Marriage of Maria Braun Anton Kaes	173
Schindler's List Is Not Shoah : The Second Commandment, Popular Modernism, and Public Memory Miriam Bratu Hansen	201
Walker and Mississippi Burning : Postmodernism versus Illusionist Narrative Sumiko Higashi	218

History, Fiction, and Postcolonial Memory

- Empire as Myth and Memory 235
Naomi Greene
- Black God, White Devil: The Representation of History* 249
Ismail Xavier
- Official History, Popular Memory: Reconfiguration
of the African Past in the Films of Ousmane Sembène 261
Mbye Cham

History and Television

- Information, Crisis, Catastrophe 269
Mary Ann Doane
- History, the Eternal Rerun: On Crime Story 286
Richard Dienst
- History on Television: The Making of Cold War, 1998 294
Taylor Downing
- Ken Burns's Rebirth of a Nation: Television, Narrative, and Popular History 303
Gary Edgerton
- Interrotroning History: Errol Morris and the Documentary
of the Future 316
Shawn Rosenheim
- Select Bibliography* 331
Contributors 335
Index 339

CONTENTS

Preface	vii
I. Neo-Mythologism	1
II. Peplum	12
III. An Annotated Filmography of Peplum Features Released in the United States, 1958-1968	57
Appendices:
I: Foreign Films	361
II: Precursors of Peplum	376
III: Samuel Bronston Presents	382
IV: English-Language Films	391
V: Apocrypha	479
Basic Studies and Works Cited	482
Index	491
About the Author	530