

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	7
SEMINAR PARTICIPANTS	10
1 RECOMMENDATIONS FOR LEARNING by Donald Bligh	11
The need for more professionalism — The need for more flexibility — Conclusion
2 CONTINUING EDUCATION WITHIN UNIVERSITIES AND POLYTECHNICS by Richard Hoggart, Michael Stephens, John Taylor and Richard Smethurst	31
Introduction — Why emphasize education for adults? — Staff and students: attitudes and demands — What should be done? — Examples of recent developments — Conclusion
3 THE CURRICULUM OF HIGHER EDUCATION by Sinclair Goodlad and Brian Pippard with Donald Bligh	68
Summary — Introduction — Professionalism and a sense of purpose — Activity for learning — The flexibility of general and specialist courses — Professional standards and assessment — Towards professional flexibility
4 ASSESSMENT FOR LEARNING by Lewis Elton	106
Introduction — Purposes of assessment — Assessment as a measuring instrument — Assessment and curricular aims — Methods of assessment — Assessment schemes — Marking, interpreting, reporting — The management of assessment — Assessment and 'real life' — Conclusion

6 CONTENTS

5 TEACHING AND LEARNING 136
by Paul Black and John Sparkes

Introduction — Students — Academic staff as professional teachers — Educational systems