

Contents

List of Illustrations	x
Notes on Contributors	xii
Introduction: French Cultural Identities	1
MICHAEL KELLY
PART I: INDUSTRIALIZATION AND WAR (1870–1944)	9
1 Industrialization and its Discontents (1870–1914)	11
GORDON MILLAN, BRIAN RIGBY, JILL FORBES
From Symbolism to Modernism	12
Paris, the Capital of Art	15
Le Japonisme or the Challenge to Europe	18
Science, Technology, and the Growth of the Mass Market	20
Mallarmé: the Total Artist	22
The Heritage of Wagner	27
The Birth of Impressionism	28
The Neurosis of the Fin de siècle	33
Cubism and the Impact of ‘Primitive’ Art	34
The Belle Époque ?	37
The Imposition of the New Moral Order	38
The Eroticization of the Public Domain	43
The Feminist Critique	45
Leisure, Consumption, and Popular Culture	47
2 Wars and Class Wars (1914–1944)	54
MICHAEL SCRIVEN, NICHOLAS HEWITT, MICHAEL KELLY, MARGARET ATTACK
War and Revolution	54
Les Années folles	61
Crisis and Commitment	69

Les Années noires	78
Suggestions for Further Reading	92
PART II: RECONSTRUCTION AND ITS IDEOLOGIES (1945–1967)	97
3 Crises of Modernization	99
MICHAEL KELLY, ELIZABETH FALLAIZE, ANNA RIDEHALGH
Reconstructions of the French Nation	99
The French Ideologies	109
Existentialism and The Second Sex	119
Politics and Culture from the Cold War to Decolonization	124
African Literature and Film in French	135
4 Modernization and Avant-gardes	140
MICHAEL KELLY, TONY JONES, JILL FORBES
Modernization and Popular Culture	140
The New Theatre	152
The New Novel and the New Criticism	164
The Cinema from Occupation to New Wave	171
Suggestions for Further Reading	178
PART III: REVOLUTION AND POSTMODERNITY (1968–1995)	183
May 1968 and After
5 The Author, the Reader, and the Text after 1968	191
MICHAEL WORTON
The Revolution in Writing	191
Literature as Rewriting	193
A Woman's Rewriting: Christiane Baroche	195
Literature as Repetition and Commemoration	198
Orientalism	202
The Temptations of Autobiography	204
The Gamble of Poetry	206
The Vivacity of Literature	210
6 The Self and Others	213
KEITH READER
Marxism and Post-Marxism	218
The Future of Literary Criticism	222
Foucault: From Document to Monument	224

Régis Debray and the 'Communications Revolution'	225
The Feminist Critique	226
Other Voices: Voices of Others	229
7 Popular Culture and Cultural Politics	232
JILL FORBES
The Rise of Audio-visual Culture	232
The City as Signifying Practice	246
Cultural Politics and the Postmodern Condition	258
8 French in the World: From Imperialism to Diversity	264
RODNEY BALL, ALEC HARGREAVES, BILL MARSHALL, ANNA RIDEHALGH
Preservationists vs. Innovators and the Contemporary French Language	264
Beur Culture	269
National Allegory in Francophone Canada	273
African Literature and Cinema in French after 1968	278
Suggestions for Further Reading	286
Conclusion: French Cultural Studies in the Future	290
JILL FORBES
Chronology 1870–1994	296
Index	316