

CONTENTS

1.

Michel Charolles

Text connexity, text coherence and text interpretation processing 1

Rachel Giora

What's a coherent text? 16

Katshuhiko Hatakeyama, János S. Petöfi, Emel Sözer

Text, connexity, cohesion, coherence 36

Maria M. Langleben

A long way to the full interpretation 106

Lennart Lönngrén

Representation and interpretation: Approaches to text analysis 138

Lita Lundquist

Coherence: From structures to processes 151

János S. Petöfi

Procedural aspects of text interpretation. Interaction between text and interpreter in the meaning-constitutive interpretation process 176

Madeleine G. Randquist

The barely visible glue. Some aspects of textual connectedness 189

István Siklaki

Story grammars as models for story processing 219

Roger G. van de Velde

Inferences and coherence in text interpretation 261

2.

Peter Bosch

Constraints, coherence, comprehension. Reflections on anaphora 299

Nils Erik Enkvist
A parametric view of word order		320
Auli Hakulinen
On cohesive devices in Finnish		337
Willie van Peer
Toward a grammatic theory of connexity: An analysis of the use of the conjunction AND from a functional perspective		363
3.
Lóránt Bencze
Conscious tradition, unconscious construction or sub-conscious metaphors? Certain levels of text cohesion and coherence		381
Antal Bókay
Text and coherence in a psychoanalytic theory of jokes		414
Károly Csúri
Literary coherence: How to establish possible worlds (Demonstrated by an analysis of Gyula Hernádi's Plank Monastery)		439
Helen Aristar Dry
Approaches to coherence in natural and literary narrative		484
Heda Jason
The Jewish Beauty and the King: Coherence in folk tales. Preliminary sketch of a model		500
Zoltán Szabó
The importance of text coherence for the global stylistic analysis		526
4.
Käthi Dorfmüller-Karpusa, Thomas Dorfmüller
Some interdisciplinary remarks about coherence		555
Özséb Horányi
Discoherent remarks on coherence		567
List of Contributors		595