

Preface	iv
About the authors	v
1 Towards an analysis of discourse John Sinclair and Malcolm Coulthard	1
2 The significance of intonation in discourse Malcolm Coulthard	35
3 Exchange structure Malcolm Coulthard and David Brazil	50
4 Priorities in discourse analysis John Sinclair	79
5 A functional description of questions Amy Tsui	89
6 Caught in the act: using the rank scale to address problems of delicacy Dave Willis	111
7 Analysing everyday conversation Gill Francis and Susan Hunston	123
8 Inner and outer: spoken discourse in the language classroom Jane Willis	162
9 Intonation and feedback in the EFL classroom Martin Hewings	183
10 Interactive lexis: prominence and paradigms Mike McCarthy	197
11 Listening to people reading David Brazil	209
12 Forensic discourse analysis Malcolm Coulthard	242
Bibliography	259