Contents

Introduction 1
William A. Foley

Noun incorporation and the nature of linguistic representation 13
Mark C. Baker

Interaction between grammar and discourse in Chichewa (Bantu) 45
Joan Bresnan

The elusive figures of Burmese grammar: An essay 61
A. L. Becker

A language which defies description by ordinary means 87
Andrew Pawley

The conceptual basis of grammatical relations 131
William A. Foley

The expanse of grammar in the "waste" of frames 175
Michael Silverstein

Culture and conversational inference 193
John J. Gumperz

Disjoint reference and pragmatic inference: Anaphora and switch reference in Northern Pomo 215
M. C. O'Connor

Code, inference, placedness and ellipsis 243
Nicholas Evans

Meaning and pragmatics of order in selected South American Indian languages 281
Doris L. Payne

Theoretical implications of grammaticalization phenomena 315
Christian Lehmann

Grammar and polity: The cultural and political background to Standard Malay 341
Geoffrey Benjamin

Diglossic grammaticality in Thai 393
Anthony Diller

Language use and language development: Review of sociolinguistic theory 421
Mohamed H. Abdulaziz

Formalism, functionalism and the discourse of evolution 437
Jane H. Hill

Language index 457

Subject index 461