

Contents

General Editors' Preface	viii
General Introduction	ix
1 Contexts: History, Politics, Culture	1
Introduction	1
British Empire, decline and loss	8
Censorship	11
Class structure	13
Cold War	18
Counter-culture	20
Feminism and the role of women	23
Holocaust	27
Migrant experience and multiculturalism	29
Northern Irish 'troubles'	32
Political protest	34
Popular culture	38
Religion	40
Science and technological innovation	43
Sex and sexuality	45
War	47
Youth culture	50
2 Texts: Themes, Issues, Concepts	54
Introduction	54
Absurdist theatre	62
Alternative theatre	64
Anglo-Welsh literature	66
'Angry young men'	68
Avant-garde poetry	69
Black British literature	71
Campus novel	74
Class	75
Concrete poetry	79
Empire, end of	80
Englishness	82
Epic theatre	85

vi Contents

Gay and lesbian writing	87
Genre fiction	90
History	91
Holocaust literature	95
Irish literature	96
'Kitchen sink' drama	99
Language poetry	101
London, literary representations of	102
Magic realism	104
Marketing of literature	105
Modernism, legacy of	108
Movement, the	111
Nature	113
New voices in 21st-century literature	114
Performance poetry	117
Political commitment	119
Postcolonial literature	122
Postmodern literature	124
Realism	127
Regional identity	129
Scottish literature	131
Theatre of Cruelty	133
Underground poetry	135
Urban experience	137
Women's writing	139
3 Criticism: Approaches, Theory, Practice	144
Introduction	144
Cultural materialism	150
Deconstruction	153
Dialogic theory	156
Feminist criticism	158
Gender criticism	161
Leavisite criticism	164
Marxist criticism	165
Narratology	168
New Criticism	170
New Historicism	171
Postcolonial criticism	175
Postmodernist theory	177
Poststructuralism	180
Psychoanalytic criticism	183

Reader-response criticism	187
Structuralism	190
Notes	193
Chronology	194
General Index	206
Index of Works Cited	215