

CONTENTS

Figures	IX
Acknowledgments.....	XI
Abbreviations.....	XIII
Introduction.....	1
Chapter One: Tracking an Elusive Institution: The Historiographic Problem	5
Chapter Two: Rule vs. Reality: Monastic Ideals and Educational Imperatives	21
I. Attitudes Toward Education and Seclusion	21
1. St. Benedict and Education	24
2. Keeping the World Out	27
3. Stabilitas and Transitus	30
4. Oblation and Stabilitas	33
II. The Reality of Monastic Isolation	37
1. Monastic Learning and Government Service	38
2. The Education of Aristocrats at Monasteries	42
3. Monks and Nuns as Missionaries	45
4. Conclusion.....	47
Chapter Three: Carolingian Monastic and Educational Policy	49
I. The Monastic Policy of Charles Martel and Pepin III.....	49
II. Charlemagne's Attitude Toward the Sacred and Secular.....	53
III. Louis the Pious and the Monastic Reform Movement.....	63
IV. Fiscal Problems and the Funding of Clerical Education	66
V. Conclusion	70
Chapter Four: Royal Abbeys and the Plan of St. Gall	72
I. Royal Abbeys in the Early Ninth Century	73
II. The Meaning of the ut scola Capitulary.....	85
III. Haito's Responsibility for the Plan of St. Gall	91
IV. External Schools at Royal Abbeys After 817	93
V. The External School at St. Gall.....	99

Chapter Five: Educational Exchange: The Monastic Network	108
I. Abbot Grimald and the Changing Patterns of Scholarly Exchange	108
II. The Role of Prayer Confraternities.....	112
III. The Monk-Priests	115
IV. The Dependent Houses of Fulda: A Case Study.....	119
V. Conclusion.....	128
Chapter Six: External Schooling at Proprietary Churches.....	130
I. The Church as Political Ally	130
II. Carolingian Monasteries After 830	132
III. Monasteries as Proprietors of Parish Churches	134
IV. Conclusion.....	139
Appendix 1	142
Appendix 2	147
Bibliography	151
Index.....	163