

Contents

chapter 1

The History, Characteristics, and Function of Supervision in the Modern Public School System	1
A brief history of supervision	2
The need for supervision	3
The characteristics of modern supervision	4
Selecting and organizing personnel for effective supervision of instruction	10
Administration and supervision—distinction and definition	16
Collective negotiations and supervision	17
A case study—the old and the new	18
Definition of terms	19
Summary	19

chapter 2

Theory and Research in Supervision	22
Theory and supervision	23
Theory and instruction	35
The systems approach and supervision	38

Research and supervision	41
Summary	44

chapter 3

Organization and Function of Supervision in Districts of Various Sizes	47
Characteristics of the small school district	50
Organizing for supervision	52
Characteristics of the intermediate-size school district	58
Organizing for supervision	68
The Moorestown township public schools, Moorestown, New Jersey, organize for supervision	69
Characteristics of larger districts	71
Organizing for supervision	73
The San Diego unified school district, San Diego, California, organizes for supervision	74
Summary	78

chapter 4

The Superintendent, Assistant Superintendent, and Curriculum Coordinator at Work in Supervision	83
The superintendent of schools	83
The assistant superintendent in charge of instruction	89
Relationship of assistant superintendent to other administrative personnel	93
The assistant superintendent for business	94
Coordinators of elementary and secondary education	95
Relationship of the coordinators to other administrative personnel	97
Summary	97

chapter 5

The Principal at Work in Supervision	100
Factors influencing the role of the principal	100
The job and the man	101
Summary	122

chapter 6

Other Personnel Involved in Improvement of Instruction	124
The K–12 subject area coordinator	124
The department head	126
The team leader	128
The senior teacher	131
The helping teacher	132
Using specialists in elementary schools	133
Summary	136

chapter 7

Innovation and Factors that Influence Change	139
Educational innovation	139
The process of change	145
Thinking versus doing	146
Factors influencing change	147
Summary	155

chapter 8

Working with Individuals to Improve Instruction	157
Individual techniques	158
Summary	196

chapter 9

Working with Groups to Improve Instruction	199
Group techniques	199
In-service education	216
Summary	224

chapter 10

How to Organize and Carry out a Program of Curriculum Study and Development	227
Basic considerations and principles in curriculum study and development	227

The process of curriculum development	229
Outline for action in curriculum development	236
Curriculum development in action—some examples	254
Summary	258

chapter 11

Selecting and Using Effective Learning Resources and Techniques	261
--	-----

How to organize for administration of learning resource services	263
How to plan for the selection and use of modern instructional materials and techniques	266
The roles of supervisory personnel in selecting and using learning resources	271
Summary	275

chapter 12

The Evaluation of Supervisory Programs	278
---	-----

Procedures for evaluating supervision	279
Summary	287

chapter 13

A Look Ahead	289
---------------------	-----

Factors that are producing changes	289
Curriculum revision and the future	301
Summary	301

Appendixes

One: Format for course of study outline	304
Two: The 15 point school improvement program, Simon Gratz High School, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania	305
Three: Current developments and programs, Bethlehem area school district, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania	311
Four: How good is your supervisory program?	314
Five: Appraisal of administrative and supervisory performance, Cincinnati, Ohio	326
Six: Simulated activities	332