

Contents

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	ix
A NOTE TO THE READER	xiii
Introduction: A Cultural History of the French Enlightenment	1
1	The Rise of the State: The Republic of Letters and the Monarchy of France 12
➤	The Republic of Letters in the Seventeenth Century 15
	The Encyclopédie and the Project of Enlightenment 23
	Citizenship and the Enlightenment Republic of Letters 34
2	Philosophes and Salonnieres: A Critique of Enlightenment Historiography 53
	Rousseau's Critique of Salons and Philosophes 54
	Rousseau's Critique and Twentieth-Century Historiography 56
➤	The Enlightenment Salonnière 73
3	Governing the Republic of Letters: Salonnieres and the Rule(s) of Polite Conversation 90
	Cultural Practices of the Old Regime 91
	Republican Governance in the Salons 99
➤	Polite Conversation and Enlightenment Discourse 111

4	Into Writing: Epistolary Commerce in the Republic of Letters	136
	x Letters in the Enlightenment Republic of Letters	139
	Nouvelles à la Main and Correspondances Littéraires	152
	Periodicals	165
	Public Subscription	175
5	Into Print: Discord in the Republic of Letters	183
	Galiani's Dialogues sur le Commerce des Blés	187
	The Physiocrats Fight Back	197
	Morellet's Réfutation	204
	Diderot's Apologie	215
6	Masculine Self-Governance and the End of Salon Culture	233
	The Apotheosis of Public Opinion	235
	Pahin de La Blancherie: General Agent of the Republic of Letters	242
	Masonic Sociability	253
	The Musée de Monsieur	259
	Increased Competition and the Struggle for Survival	276
	Conclusion: The Enlightenment Republic of Letters and the French Revolution	281
	Brissot's Lycée de Londres	281
	The Cercle Social and the Jacobin Club	288
	A Reevaluation of Tocqueville	300
	BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES	305
	WORKS CITED	313
	INDEX	329