

Content

Dr. Georg Brockt and Dr. Patrick Kurtz Requirements of the European Physical Agents (Noise) Directive 2003/10/EC and the protection of workers in the music and entertainment sector	7
Dr. Beat W. Hohmann Long-term noise exposure of orchestra musicians	14
Dr. Esko Toppila and Dr. Ilamri Pyyko Effect of noise exposure in the entertainment sector	25
Prof. Dr. Marshall Chasin Strategies to minimize the Exposure to loud Music	30
Alison Wright-Reid Orchestral noise control – madness or miracle?	36
Dr. Klaus Wogram Sound reduction in an orchestra by help of screens	48
Dr. David Smeatham Control of noise exposure in pubs and clubs	56
Dr. Kim Kähäri An acoustic intervention of a live music club for a safe and good environment	63
Timothy Roberts Enlightened self-interest; the route to compliance	76
Roger Sutton Practical considerations for maximising the protection of those working in music and entertainment	82
Dr. Regina Heinecke-Schmitt Regulation demand for sound level in discotheques and concerts?	88
Dr. Heli Laitinen Use of hearing protectors in classical music	98
Dr. Mark F. Zander and Prof. Dr. Bernhard Richter Usage and evaluation of hearing protectors in professional orchestras	109

Prof. Dr. Eckhard Hoffmann	121
Hearing loss prevention for pop musicians: Medical aspects, the reality on stage and the health risk for the audience
Dr. Martin Fendel	133
Health surveillance of the hearing function for musicians in terms of occupational health	