

Contents

Notes on the Contributors	vii
Introduction	1
Nicola J. Watson
1 From Early Modern to Romantic Literary Tourism: A Diachronical Perspective	13
Harald Hendrix
2 Making Their Mark: Writing the Poet's Grave	25
Samantha Matthews
3 The Land of Burns: between Myth and Heritage	37
Karyn Wilson-Costa
4 Literary Biography and the House of the Poet	49
Julian North
5 The Author's House: Abbotsford and Wayside	63
Erin Hazard
6 Bringing Down the House: Restoring the Birthplace	73
Julia Thomas
7 Ghosting Grasmere: the Musealisation of Dove Cottage	84
Polly Atkin
8 Women Re-Read Shakespeare Country	95
Gail Marshall
9 John Murray's Handbooks to Italy : Making Tourism Literary	106
Barbara Schaff
10 Selling Literary Tourism in The Bookman	119
Margaret D. Stetz
11 Elizabeth Gaskell and Literary Tourism	128
Pamela Corpron Parker

12	Rambles in Literary London Nicola J. Watson	139
13	Time-Travel in Dickens' World Alison Booth	150
14	Wessex, Literary Pilgrims, and Thomas Hardy Sara Haslam	164
15	Americans and Anti-Tourism Shirley Foster	175
16	How America 'Inherited' Literary Tourism Paul Westover	184
17	Harriet Beecher Stowe and Florida Tourism Diane Roberts	196
18	On the Trail of Rider Haggard in South Africa Lindy Stiebel	210
	Index	221