Contents

Acknowledgments ix

Introduction: The Aim and Structure of the Book 1

1 The Evolution of Attitudes towards Female Characters in Russian Literature: An Historical Overview 11

2 Spiritual and Physical Murder between Man and Woman: Dostoevsky, Tolstoy and Chekhov 27

3 Woman as Sexual Predator in Russian Literary Tradition: Tolstoy, Zoschenko and Trifonov 41

4 Woman’s Infidelity as the Cause for Man’s Devastation: Tolstoy, Flaubert, Leskov, Turgenev, Kuprin, and Chekhov 53

5 Anxiety about the Strong Woman: Turgenev, Leskov, and Bulgakov 83

6 Surrogate for Man-Woman Relations in Post-War Soviet Literature: Vasilyev, Grossman, and Rasputin 99

7 The Eunuch as Hero in Late-Soviet and Perestroika Literature: Dovlatov, Nagibin, and Polyakov 115
 Contents

8 Man as an Object in Literature by Women: Shcherbakova, Rubina, Ulitskaya, Petrushevskaya, and Grekova 131

Conclusion: Sex as an Animal Act beyond Comprehension 153
Bibliography 157
Index 167
About the Author 171