

Contents

	A Note to the Reader	xi
	Introduction. Imprinting the Body: Lady Bradshaigh's Clarissa	I
1	The Eighteenth-Century Epistolary Body and the Public Sphere	5
2	Writing the Republic of Letters: The Lettres persanes and the Citizen-Critic	30
3	"My Father's House": Body Language and Authority in Clarissa	71
4	Going Public: The Letter and the Contract in Fanni Butlerd	114
5	The End of Epistolarity: Letters from an American Farmer	140
	Postscript. Post-Enlightenment Letters	173
	Notes	183
	Works Cited	219
	Index	231