

CONTENTS

	SERIES EDITOR'S FOREWORD	xi
	ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS	xiii
1	PREFACE: IMMERSSED IN MEDIA SPORT	1
	Introduction: a day in the life of the media sports consumer	1
	Sport, Culture and the Media : structure and outline	4
	Conclusion: looking towards sport and media	8
	PART I MAKING MEDIA SPORT	9
2	UNDERSTANDING SPORT AND MEDIA: A SOCIO-HISTORICAL APPROACH	11
	Introduction: when two worlds collide	11
	The rise of sport	13
	Profitable play	17
	Political football	21
	The rise of the mass media	24
	News and entertainment	26
	Having it both ways: sport meets media	30
	Conclusion: sport, media and cultural power	32
	Further reading	35
3	WORKING IN MEDIA SPORT: THE DISCIPLINE OF SPORTS JOURNALISM	36
	Introduction: flesh, blood and sports journalists	36
	Sports journalists: 'shabby reputations' and professional problems	39

Profler: the strange case of the sports journalist	43
Crusaders and cheerleaders	48
Talking to the sports talkers	53
Tabloids, broadsheets and fanzines	57
Conclusion: hacks and hipsters	62
Further reading	63

MONEY, MYTH AND THE BIG MATCH: THE POLITICAL ECONOMY OF THE SPORTS MEDIA	64
Introduction: valuing sport	64
Sport, media and capital accumulation	66
How to make money while losing it in sports television	71
The 'strategic chaos' of media sport	75
Sport as screen filler	81
Media sports policy, politics and myth	84
Fighting for the right to watch	87
Sport as school for scandal	91
Conclusion: media sport lost and found	93
Further reading	94

PART II UNMAKING THE MEDIA SPORTS TEXT 95

TAKING US THROUGH IT: THE 'ART' OF SPORTS COMMENTATING AND WRITING	97
Introduction: the world of sports speak	97
Live commentary, dead language	98
Ideologies and Olympic extravaganzas	103
On the page, off the air	106
Revelations, exclusives and 'bungs'	111
Literary moments	115
Conclusion: from script to still	118
Further reading	119

FRAMED AND MOUNTED: SPORT THROUGH THE PHOTOGRAPHIC EYE	120
Introduction: still sport	120
Caught in the act	121
Sports bodies: hot and hard	125
Politics and portraits	131
Imaging sporting masculinity	135
The uses of sport in photography	142
Conclusion: sports images on the move	144
Further reading	144

7	SCREENING THE ACTION: THE MOVING SPORTS IMAGE	145
	Introduction: action, drama and narrative	145
	The front row seat in the living room	147
	Audience hunting	151
	Screen of dreams	159
	Conclusion: 'there's always the sport'	165
	Further reading	166
8	AFTERWORD: SPORT INTO THE ETHER(NET): NEW TECHNOLOGIES, NEW CONSUMERS	167
	Introduction: the coming of cybersport	167
	From consumer to auteur	168
	Conclusion: look and learn	170
	GLOSSARY OF KEY TERMS	173
	REFERENCES	176
	INDEX	190