

Contents

Preface	vii
CHAPTER ONE. TIME AND THE TENSELESS
1.1 The Paradox of Externality	1
1.2 The Linguistic Thesis of J.J.C. Smart	8
1.3 The Ontological Thesis of Russell and Grunbaum	16
1.4 The Identity Problem	29
1.5 An Appendix: Two Clarifications	32
CHAPTER TWO. THE PRESENT
2.1 St. Augustine's Account of the Present	39
2.2 The Specious Present Theory	52
2.3 The Two Faces of the Present	61
2.4 What Can Be Said	71
CHAPTER THREE. THE EXTENSIVE ASPECT OF TIME
3.1 Gale's Account of McTaggart's A Series	75
3.2 The Conclusion That There Is No B Series	83
3.3 Temporal Order Without the B Series	93
3.4 What Are Tenseless Earlier/Later Relations For?	99
3.5 An Overview of this Chapter and Chapter One	103

CHAPTER FOUR. THE FUTURE

4.1	Generality, Reference and the Existence of the Future	111
4.2	The Fatalist's Conflation of Epistemic and Metaphysical Possibility	123
4.3	Conclusions	136

CHAPTER FIVE. TEMPORAL CONTINUITY AND EMERGING IDENTITY

5.1	Tense Profiles and Spatial Perspectives: A Contrast	140
5.2	Emerging Temporal Wholes and the Present	150
5.3	The Principle of Emerging Identity	157
5.4	The Essential Incompleteness of Time Itself	167
5.5	Some Final Remarks about Externality	183

CHAPTER SIX. CONSCIOUSNESS AND OBJECTIVE TIME

188

Bibliography	196
Index	200