

Contents

Acknowledgments	v
Introduction	1
I. Conceptual Issues
1. Collective Responsibility (A Critique) H. D. Lewis (1948)	17
2. Collective Responsibility (A Defense) David E. Cooper (1968)	35
3. Collective Responsibility (A Reply to Cooper) R. S. Downie (1969)	47
4. Collective Responsibility (Another Defense) Joel Feinberg (1970)	53
5. Morality and Collective Liability Howard McGary (1986)	77
6. Can a Random Collection of Individuals Be Morally Responsible? Virginia Held (1970)	89
7. The Responsibility of 'Random Collections' (A Reply to Held) Stanley Bates (1971)	101

II. Applications

A. Business

8. Why Corporations Are Not Morally Responsible for Anything They Do 111
 Manuel Velasquez (1983)
9. The Corporation as a Moral Person 133
 Peter A. French (1979)

B. Professional Life

10. Ethical Responsibilities of Engineers in Large Organizations: The Pinto Case 151
 Richard T. De George (1981)
11. Collective Responsibility and the Nursing Profession 167
 James Muyskens (1982)

C. Wartime

12. Conduct and Responsibility in War 179
 Richard Wasserstrom (1980)
13. Guilt and Responsibility 197
 Kurt Baier (1972)

D. Apartheid and University Divestment

14. Racism and Moral Pollution 219
 Anthony Appiah (1987)
15. Metaphysical Guilt and Moral Taint 239
 Larry May (1991)

E. Genocide and German Guilt

16. Measuring Responsibility 255
 A. Zvie Bar-on (1985)
17. Organized Guilt and Universal Responsibility 273
 Hannah Arendt (1945)

Bibliography 285

Contributors 291