

Contents

Illustrations	vii
Preface and Acknowledgements	ix
1 Zenobia in History and Legend	1
The Historical Zenobia	2
The Family of Zenobia	4
The Status and Family of Odenathus	6
The Children of Zenobia and Odenathus	9
The Legend of Zenobia	10
Travellers to Palmyra	13
Zenobia in Literature and Art	14
2 Palmyra and Rome	17
Annexation by Rome	20
The Palmyrene Militia	24
Organization of Palmyrene Trade	27
The Caravans and their Leaders	28
Luxury Goods	30
Trade Routes	31
Palmyra, Rome and Parthia	33
The Rise of Septimius Severus	35
Changes in the Palmyrene Militia	37
The Late Severan Dynasty and the Rise of the Persians	38
The Roman Response	40
The Decline of Palmyrene Trade	42
Odenathus, Chief of the Palmyrenes	43
Shapur I, King of Kings	46
The Emperor Valerian and Odenathus	47
3 Septimius Odenathus: Restorer of the East	57
Macrianus and His Sons Seize Power	58
Odenathus, Restorer of the East	61
Literary Sources	62
Dux Romanorum	63
Corrector totius orientis?	67
The Campaign Against the Persians	70

King of Kings	71
The Last Years of Odenathus	75
4 Zenobia Widowed	83
The Representation of Vaballathus as Ruler	84
Gaining the Support of the Eastern Kingdoms and Provinces	86
Relations with Rome	89
Protection of the Eastern Frontier	91
Queen and Regent	92
Queen and Court	95
5 Septimia Zenobia Augusta	101
Economic and Defence Motives in Palmyrene Expansion	103
The Roman World in 269–70	105
Arabia	106
Egypt	110
Asia Minor	116
Zenobia's Rule of the East	118
6 Aurelian and the Roman Recovery	131
The Roman Recovery of Egypt	131
Aurelian's March to Syria	133
The Battle of Immae	135
The Defeat of the Palmyrene Garrison at Daphne	138
The Battle of Emesa	138
The So-called Siege of Palmyra	140
7 Aftermath	149
The Rebellion of the Palmyrenes	152
The Revolt of Firmus in Egypt	155
The Fate of Zenobia	156
Zenobia: Rebel and Usurper, or Heroine and Patriot?	161
Glossary	165
Notes	173
Bibliography	197
Index	209