

Contents

Preface	page ix
1 Ontology	1
1 Things	1
2 Properties	7
3 Possible worlds	10
2 Things and their parts	12
1 Introduction	12
2 The theory M	14
3 A formal version of M	16
4 The theory M+	17
5 Persistence versus temporal parts	24
6 The boundaries of things	27
7 An almost embarrassingly simple argument	33
8 Statues and lumps of clay	37
3 Some properties of things	41
1 Haecceities	41
2 Singulary categoricals	46
3 Ostension	52
4 A partial analysis	53
4 A theory of names	61
1 The standard views	61
2 A Kripke-style theory	64
3 Ordinary proper names	65
4 Hesperus and Phosphorus	71
5 Frege and Superman	79

6	Naming mereological sums	83
7	Empty names	87
5	Necessity and essentialism	97
1	Propositions	97
2	Property entailment	111
3	Necessity de dicto	115
4	Necessity de re	118
5	The essence of essentialism	120
	References	125
	Index	127