

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Abbreviations	ix
Introduction: Knowledge, Justification, and True Belief	1
I Greek Skepticism	11
1 Plato's skepticism in the Theaetetus	11
2 Academic skepticism	19
3 Pyrrhonian skepticism	29
II Descartes' Skepticism	37
1 The antecedent skeptical challenge	38
2 The validation of reason	41
3 Does justified belief require an answer to antecedent skepticism?	50
III Hume's Skepticism	53
1 Hume's reliabilism	54
2 Skepticism with regard to the senses – or rather, imagination	56
3 Hume's positive epistemology: strength, naturalness, and adaptiveness	67
4 Hume's answer to consequent skepticism	72
IV Accessibility Internalism	84
1 The deontic argument for accessibility internalism	90
2 Against accessibility internalism	98
3 The fairly direct accessibility of reasons	110

Knowledge and Belief

V Perspectival Internalism, Mental Internalism, and Epistemically Responsible Belief	116
1 The responsibility argument for perspectival and mental internalism	118
2 The vat argument for mental internalism	131
VI Reliability, Relevant Processes, and Metaprocesses	140
1 Relevant processes	140
2 Metaprocesses	163
VII Justification and Evaluation	175
1 Does justified belief require positive evaluation?	175
2 Is justified belief undermined by negative evaluation?	180
VIII The Value of Evaluation	199
1 The utility of evaluation	200
2 The accuracy of evaluation	210
Notes	224
Bibliography	268
Index	275