

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
1. A perspective on a Problem.....	1
1.1 Some Models and a Metaphor.....	1
1.2 The Search and the Method.....	21
2. The Dissolutionists.....	27
2.1 Reductive Materialism.....	29
2.2 Subjective Idealism.....	37
2.3 Ordinary Language.....	46
2.4 Dissolution and Ontological Criteria.....	55
3. Expression, Form, and Awareness: Experience and Propositional Form.....	71
3.1 The Significance and Scope of First Person Propositions.....	73
3.2 First Person Propositions and the Description of the World.....	86
4. The Crucial Concepts and the Facts.....	97
4.1 The Concept of Person.....	99
4.2 The Concept of Thing.....	106
4.3 Universals, Particulars, and the Nature of Persons, Minds and Things.....	115
4.4 Things, Aspects, and Relations.....	124
4.5 Dreams.....	136
4.6 Actions and Their Preconditions.....	151
4.7 Causes, Perceptions, and Things.....	166
4.8 Things, Thoughts and Intentional Objects.....	183
4.9 Intentional Objects, Universals and Relations.....	198

5.	The Inner World and the Kinds of Knowledge.....	219
5.1	Things and Criteria.....	221
5.2	The Exchange of Meanings and the Knowledge of Persons.....	228
5.3	Knowing What One Is Doing.....	246
6.	A Developing Thesis.....	259
6.1	The Dialectic of Experience.....	261
6.2	The Structure of a Conclusion.....	285