

◆ CONTENTS

PREFACE	ix
ONE ◆ THE THEORY OF IDENTITY FOR ENDURING OBJECTS	3
1.1 Toward a General Theory of Identity	3
1.2 The Identity of Indiscernibles as a General Theory	6
1.3 The Triviality Objection (I)	10
1.4 The Triviality Objection (II)	14
1.5 The Objection from the Paradoxes	18
1.6 Black's Counterexample	19
1.7 Identity through Time	20
TWO ◆ ENDURING AND NONENDURING OBJECTS	24
2.1 Strawson on Ontological Priority	25
2.2 The Constructionist Program	36
THREE ◆ IMPLICATIONS	43
3.1 Physical Objects and Spatiotemporal Continuity	43
3.2 The Conditions of Personal Identity	49
3.3 Problematic Entities	60
FOUR ◆ THE THEORY OF CHANGE	71
4.1 The Aristotelean Distinction	71
4.2 Its Implications	81
FIVE ◆ THE THEORY OF ESSENTIALISM	84
5.1 The Nature of a Theory of Essentialism and Its Problems	84
5.2 Kaplan and Plantinga	90
5.3 The Difficulties with the Reinterpretations	96
5.4 Identity across Possible Worlds	103
5.5 The Development of Aristotelean Essentialism (I)	116
5.6 The Development of Aristotelean Essentialism (II)	123
5.7 Concluding Remarks	133

SIX ♦ ESSENCE AND EXPLANATION	135
6.1 Experience and Intuition	135
6.2 Aristotelean Explanations	138
6.3 Hypotheses about Essences	151
6.4 Essentialism and Further Conditions for Identity through Time	153
Notes	157
INDEX	163