Introduction.....	1
I.1 Overview.....	1
I.2 Ontological Neutrality of Mereology	2
I.3 Constitutive Principles of the Part-of Relation	2
I.4 Ground Mereology and Ground Mereotopology	4
Chapter One: Extensionality.....	7
1.1 Extensionality and Supplementation	7
1.2 Identity and Extensionality	13
1.2.1 Counterexample—Lexical Objects	14
1.2.2 Counterexample—Pluralities	15
1.2.3 Counterexample—Shadows.....	16
1.2.4 Counterexample—Clay/Statue.....	16
1.2.5 Counterexample—Persons	17
1.2.6 Counterexample—Forces	18
1.2.7 Counterexample—The Debtor	18
1.2.8 Counterexample—Ship of Theseus.....	19
1.2.9 Counterexample—Tibbles and Tib+Tail	20
1.3 Clarifications	22
1.3.1 Locke’s Principle	22
1.3.2 EPP and Material Individuals.....	24
1.3.3 Philosophical Solutions.....	25
Chapter Two: Atomicity.....	27
2.1 Atomicity, Atomlessness and a Mixed Picture	27
2.2 Motivations and Problems	31
2.2.1 Atomicity or Atomlessness.....	31
2.2.2 Existence of Atomless Gunk	33
Chapter Three: Unrestricted Fusion	37
3.1 Formulations of Unrestricted Fusion.....	37
3.2 Implications and Problems	39
3.2.1 Expansion of the Domain and Ontological Innocence	39
3.2.2 Strange Fusions.....	46
3.2.3 Unconditional Compositions and Mere Sums.....	47

3.3 Restrictions on Fusions.....	50
3.3.1 Connectedness, Contact or Fastening.....	50
3.3.2 Organism.....	52
3.3.3 Series of Relations.....	54
3.3.4 Upper Bounds.....	55
3.3.5 Brute Facts.....	55
3.3.6 Defusing Brute Facts.....	56
3.3.7 Integrity—Causal Unity etc.....	58
3.4 Nihilism.....	59
3.5 What kind of question is composition?.....	60
Chapter Four: Boundaries.....	64
4.1 From Mereology to Mereotopology.....	64
4.2 Defining Boundaries and the Axiom of Boundarylessness.....	66
4.3 The Parasitic Existence of Boundaries.....	69
4.4 Classification of Boundaries.....	71
4.5 Puzzles of Boundaries.....	72
4.5.1 Static Demarcation.....	72
4.5.2 Dynamic Demarcation.....	74
4.6 Boundaries as Abstractions.....	76
Chapter Five: Modal Issues.....	79
5.1 Undetached Parts.....	80
5.2 Essential Parts.....	85
5.2.1 Mereological Essentialism.....	85
5.2.2 Criticisms of Mereological Essentialism.....	89
5.2.3 Intermediate Essentialism.....	93
Chapter Six: Temporal Parts.....	96
6.1 Accepting Temporal Parts: Four-Dimensionalism.....	96
6.2 Criticisms of Four Dimensionalism.....	99
6.2.1 Language and Domain.....	99
6.2.2 No Change.....	103
6.2.3 Modal Ductility.....	103
6.2.4 Concerning Modern Physics.....	106
6.2.5 Crazy Metaphysics.....	107
6.3 Relativizing Parthood to Time.....	108
6.4 Accepting Modal Parts.....	110

Chapter Seven: Formalization and Metatheoretical Results	112
7.1 Formalization of Mereology.....	112
7.1.1 Basic Setting and Ground Theory.....	112
7.1.2 Extensional Mereology and Minimal Mereology.....	114
7.1.3 Closure Principles and Closure Extensional Mereology.....	117
7.1.4 Unrestricted Fusion and General Extensional Mereology.....	122
7.1.5 Mereology and Boolean Algebra	127
7.2 Formalization of Mereotopology	131
7.2.1 The first approach	131
7.2.1.1 GMT1	131
7.2.1.2 EMT1	135
7.2.1.3 GEMT1 and Additional Bridging Axioms.....	136
7.2.1.4 GEMT1 and Topology	139
7.2.1.5 Atomicity and Boundaries.....	145
7.2.2 The second approach.....	147
7.2.2.1 GMT2	147
7.2.2.2 Other Theories	150
7.3 Soundness and Completeness	151
7.3.1 Models.....	152
7.3.2 Defining a Topological Space.....	155
7.3.3 The Completeness Proof and Other Theories	158
7.4 Axiomatizability of the Mereotopology of the Euclidean Space.....	163
Chapter Eight: Concluding Remarks.....	168
8.1 What are the contributions of this dissertation?	168
8.2 Further Questions	169
Selected Bibliography	170
