

CONTENTS

CHAPTER I. COMMON TRAITS OF THE CLASSICAL SYSTEMS OF ETHICS: AN INTRODUCTORY LETTER ABOUT WHAT WILL NOT BE SAID	1
CHAPTER II. FIVE EPISTEMOLOGICAL NOTES ABOUT GOOD AND EVIL	4
1. The Development of a Person's Sense of Morality	4
2. The Ideals	8
3. The Logical Role of the Ideals	13
4. The Essence of the Good. The Meaningless	18
5. The Development of the Epistemology of Morality	21
CHAPTER III. THE ETHICS OF DECISIONS: A DIALOG ON DEMYSTIFIED ETHICS	22
1. Whether investigations according to the principles suggested in the preceding notes belong to ethics at all	22
2. Whether there do not exist still other ethical questions	24
3. Whether ethics is analogous to geometry	26
4. Whether systems of norms might not be combined by logical operations	29
5. Whether decisions are the only basis for morality	31
6. Whether rational foundations for decisions are possible	31
7. What role faith plays in morality	34
8. What demystified ethics might be able to achieve...	35
9. ... except for a logic of norms	36
10. ... and except for a logic of desires	36

CHAPTER IV. FIVE LOGICO-MATHEMATICAL NOTES ON VOLUNTARY ASSOCIATIONS	41
1. The Partitions of People Induced by Norms	41
2. Duality	48
3. Disjunctive Norms	52
4. A Person's Demands on Himself and on Others	65
5. Several Modes of Behavior	75
CHAPTER V. LOGIC, IMAGINATION, REALITY, EVALUATIONS: A CONCLUDING LETTER ABOUT WHAT HAS BEEN SAID	82
POSTSCRIPT TO THE ENGLISH EDITION	93
KARL MENGER: PRINCIPAL DATES	116
FIELDS OF RESEARCH	117
PUBLICATIONS IN BOOK FORM	118