

Contents

	Preface	ix
I	Rival Justices, Competing Rationalities	1
II	Justice and Action in the Homeric Imagination	12
III	The Division of the Post-Homeric Inheritance	30
IV	Athens Put to the Question	47
V	Plato and Rational Enquiry	69
VI	Aristotle as Plato's Heir	88
VII	Aristotle on Justice	103
VIII	Aristotle on Practical Rationality	124
IX	The Augustinian Alternative	146
X	Overcoming a Conflict of Traditions	164
XI	Aquinas on Practical Rationality and Justice	183
XII	The Augustinian and Aristotelian Background to Scottish Enlightenment	209
XIII	Philosophy in the Scottish Social Order	241
XIV	Hutcheson on Justice and Practical Rationality	260
XV	Hume's Anglicizing Subversion	281
XVI	Hume on Practical Rationality and Justice	300
XVII	Liberalism Transformed into a Tradition	326
XVIII	The Rationality of Traditions	349
XIX	Tradition and Translation	370
XX	Contested Justices, Contested Rationalities	389
	Index of Persons	405