

Contents

	Preface	ix
	Introduction	1
I	Adam Gifford's Project in Context	9
II	Genealogies and Subversions	32
III	Too Many Thomisms?	58
IV	The Augustinian Conception of Moral Enquiry	82
V	Aristotle and/or/against Augustine: Rival Traditions of Enquiry	105
VI	Aquinas and the Rationality of Tradition	127
VII	In the Aftermath of Defeated Tradition	149
VIII	Tradition against Encyclopaedia: Enlightened Morality as the Superstition of Modernity	170
IX	Tradition against Genealogy: Who Speaks to Whom?	196
X	Reconceiving the University as an Institution and the Lecture as a Genre	216
	Index	237