

Contents

Preface	xi
----------------	----

Part I

1 Religion as Human Institutions	3
Pre-axial religion	3
The axial age	4
The new axial insights	6
Religion as institution and religion as spirituality/mysticism	7
The institutional balance sheet	8
The 'scientific' study of religion	11
2 Spirituality and Mysticism	14
'Spirituality' and spirituality	14
Spirituality/mysticism	19
Unitive mysticism	21
3 What Is Religious Experience?	27
What do we mean by religious experience?	27
The kinds of religious experience	28
A transformed world	29
The sense of presence	31
Visions and auditions	33
Some rarer forms of religious experience	35
The relation between the inner and outer aspects of religion	36
4 'By Their Fruits You Will Know Them'	39
From the sublime to the ridiculous	39
Within the monotheisms	41
Within Buddhism	43
Individual and social fruits	45

Part II

5 The Neurosciences' Challenge to Religious Experience	55
The contemporary naturalistic world-view	55
Religious materialism?	57

	Brain to consciousness causality	58
	God and the limbic system	62
	Meditation and the brain	63
6	Caveats and Questions	67
	Religious experience as mental aberration	67
	Religious experience and epilepsy	70
	Meditation and the brain	75
	Drugs and religious experience	76
	Pure consciousness	78
7	Mind/Brain Identity?	81
	Identifying the questions	82
	The correlation = identity fallacy	82
	Begging the question	83
	The identity theory	85
	The mystery of consciousness	89
8	Current Naturalistic Theories	92
	Epiphenomenalism	92
	The Libet experiments	92
	Consciousness as a social product	94
	Consciousness and evolution	97
	Consciousness as an emergent property	99
	Biological naturalism	103
9	The Alternative Possibility	106
	The plasticity of the brain	106
	Brain plasticity observed in Buddhist meditation	108
10	Free Will?	112
	Compatibilist and non-compatibilist freedom	112
	Experimental evidence	115
	Quantum indeterminacy	118
	The problem of self-reference	119

Part III

11	The Epistemological Problem	127
	Our epistemic situation	127
	The principle of critical trust	129
	Critical trust and religious experience	130
	Differences and contradictions	133

12 The Epistemological Solution	137
Experiencing as interpreting	137
Levels of meaning	140
Cognitive freedom	142
13 Any Particular Religion?	146
Which religion?	146
Salvation	149
Responses to religious diversity	150
14 Responses to Religious Diversity	154
Multiple aspect pluralism	154
Polycentric pluralism	156
15 A Philosophy of Religious Pluralism	162
The Transcendent	162
The premises	162
The basic distinction	163
The Transcendent as beyond human description	164
The problem	166
The solution	167
16 Pluralism and the Religions	172
The problem	172
But is pluralism compatible with existing religious practice?	175
The existing religions	176
17 Spirituality for Today	181
Cosmic optimism	181
Inspiration from the saints	182
Prayer	184
Meditation	186
18 After Death?	191
The origin of after-life beliefs	191
Heaven and hell in the Christian tradition	192
Reincarnation	194
Where?	197
Many lives in many worlds	197
Concluding Summary	201
Religion as institutions and as spirituality	201
The primacy of religious experience	202

Religion and neuroscience	204
Epistemology and religious experience	205
Notes	207
Reference Bibliography	214
Index	225