

Table of Contents

I.	Introduction	9
II.	“Old Profession” for “New” Journalists: The Emergence of Travel Journalism as Women’s Profession	31
1.	From “Female Journalism” to Professional Women Journalists	31
2.	Weimar, Journalism, and Women.....	49
3.	Journalism and Travel Writing	50
III.	The Solitary Travels of a Journalist: Marie Leitner	55
1.	Leitner’s Geographies of Travel and the Composition of the Book Eine Frau reist durch die Welt	58
2.	The Political and Theoretical Significance of Work.....	62
3.	Representing Working Women	66
4.	The Hotel as Metaphor and Working Place.....	71
5.	Races, Racism, and Hybridity.....	75
6.	Jazz, the Gluttons, and Vincent Lopez.....	81
7.	Postcolonial History and Neocolonial Presence	85
8.	“Im Lande des Schreckens”: Penal Colonies, Prisons, and Prisoners	88
9.	Wilderness and Culture.....	95
10.	Of “White Trash”: Class and Race	99
11.	Conclusion	103
IV.	The Travel Companion: Marieluise Fleisser	105
1.	Place Mattered to Marieluise Fleisser.....	108
2.	Gendering Travel: “Ich reise mit Draws nach Schweden”	118
3.	The Andorra Adventures	126
4.	Fleisser’s Simulated Travels to the Zoo.....	138
5.	Critique of Andorranische Abenteuer	151
6.	Fleisser’s Travel Genre: Female Autobiographical Fiction?	153
7.	Conclusion	157
V.	Dual Travel: Erika Mann and Klaus Mann Go Global	159
1.	Erika Mann’s Travels, Journalism, and Politics	163
2.	The Homeland Abroad: American Germans and Germans in America	174
3.	“Incredible” and “Hopeless” Landscapes: Global Cities and Their ‘Others’	186

4.	“Die weiße Rasse allein wird die Zukunft nicht tragen:” Races and Racism	192
5.	The “Crack” of Authenticity: Questioning the Legacy of Western Civilization	200
6.	Conclusion	207
VI.	The Solo Flights of a Woman Aviator: Elly Beinhorn	209
1.	The “Ruthless Fight” for Gender Equality in Aviation	213
2.	The Female Sublime and the Women Aviators	217
3.	Journalism and Women Aviators	221
4.	Aerial Discourses and Aeronautic Travel Writing	225
5.	The Belated Presence of Women in German Aviation	227
6.	Technology, Power, and Gender	230
7.	As a European Woman Among African Men	234
8.	Discovering the Reciprocity of Otherness	239
9.	Women Aviators under National Socialism	243
VIII.	Conclusion	251
	Bibliography	257
	Acknowledgments	283