

Contents

| | |
|----------------------------------|------|
| List of Plates | vii |
| Preface | viii |
| Notes on the Contributors | x |

PART ONE Performance and Playing Places of the Italian Renaissance

| | | |
|---|---|----|
| 1 | The Changing Scene: Plays and Playhouses in the Italian Renaissance Michael Anderson | 3 |
| 2 | Scripted Theatre and the Commedia dell'Arte Richard Andrews | 21 |
| 3 | The Theatrical Activities of Palla di Lorenzo Strozzi in Lyon in the 1540s Judith Bryce | 55 |

PART TWO The Italian Renaissance Connection: Ben Jonson

| | | |
|---|---|-----|
| 4 | Ben Jonson's Masques and Italian Culture John Peacock | 73 |
| 5 | Jonson's Venice Brian Parker | 95 |
| 6 | Aretino's Comedies and the Italian 'Erasmian' Connection in Shakespeare and Jonson Christopher Cairns | 113 |

PART THREE The Italian Renaissance Connection: Lyly and Shakespeare

| | | |
|---|---|-----|
| 7 | Parallels between Italian and English Courtly Plays in the Sixteenth Century: Carlo Turco and John Lyly Noemi Messori | 141 |
|---|---|-----|

| | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 8 | Courtier and Courtesy: Castiglione, Lyly and Shakespeare's Two Gentlemen of Verona M. C. Bradbrook | 161 |
| 9 | Shakespeare's 'Verismo' and the Italian Popular Tradition Hugh M. Richmond | 179 |
| 10 | Honest Iago and the Lusty Moor: the Humanistic Drama of honestas/voluptas in a Shakespearean Context Maristella de Panizza Lorch | 204 |
| 11 | Postscript: Elizabethan Dramatists and Italy Leo Salingar | 221 |
| | Further Reading | 238 |
| | Index | 245 |

List of Plates

Following p. 164

1. Frontispiece to Jacob Trechsel's edition of Terence (Lyons, 1493).
2. Frontispiece to Simon de Luere's edition of Terence (Venice, 1497).
3. Engraving by Jacques Callot of the first Intermedio for La Liberazione di Tirreno in the Uffizi Palace, Florence (1616).
4. Plan of a Roman theatre in Giocondo's edition of Vitruvius (Venice, 1511).
5. Plan, perspective and section of a Roman theatre in Cesariano's edition of Vitruvius (Como, 1521).
6. From Barbaro's edition of Vitruvius (Venice, 1556): Elevation of part of the scaenae frons of a Roman theatre.
7. Plan of the theatre erected in the Campidoglio, Rome (1513).
8. The loggia of Alvise Cornaro's palace in Padua constructed by Falconetto (1524).
9. Scene from a Plautine Comedy (Venice, 1518).
10. A floating 'theatre' in Venice (1564).
11. From Sebastiano Serlio, Il secondo libro d'architettura (Paris, 1545): (a) Groundplan for the design of a theatre and its scene; (b) Perspective of a scene for comedy.
12. Baldassare Lanci's perspective of the Piazza Signoria, Florence.