

Contents

Foreword: Stephen R. Graubard	page ix
Acknowledgements	xiv
I PORTS IN THE STORM
I Liberty: last port of call	1
II Benjamin Constant afloat: hospital or pantheon	6
III Royer-Collard: steering by the Charter	17
IV Tocqueville: sailing the open sea	27
2 CONSTANT VERSUS TOCQUEVILLE
I Social settings of the political self	39
II Ages of the spirit	55
III Ancestral voices	69
3 IN PARTIBUS FIDELIUM
I Faith in freedom	85
II Protestant protocols: Necker, Madame de Staël, Vinet, Guizot	93
III Catholic submissions: Lacordaire, Montalembert	115
4 PHILOSOPHY AS CIVIL RELIGION
I How dogmas begin: Jouffroy, Cousin, Damiron	134
II How dogmas develop: Cousin	155
III How dogmas dissolve: the "affaire Pascal"	168

5 LAMARTINE, LIBERALISM'S FALLEN ANGEL

- |     |                             |     |
|-----|-----------------------------|-----|
| I   | Ut poesis politica?  | 181 |
| II  | Another kind of liberty     | 196 |
| III | Liberalism against liberals | 209 |

6 PARNASSIAN LIBERALISM

- |     |                            |     |
|-----|----------------------------|-----|
| I   | Steps to Parnassus         | 221 |
| II  | The sadness of Tocqueville | 227 |
| III | The airs of Renan          | 236 |
| IV  | The disgust of Flaubert    | 245 |

	Index	256
--	--------------	-----