

Contents

Preface and Acknowledgements	ix
Introduction	xi
1 Jacques Derrida: The Transcendental and Difference	1
Derrida and Husserlian Phenomenology	4
Deconstruction, Hermeneutics and the Transcendental	11
Derrida and German Idealism	19
Différance and the Regress of Reflection	25
Meaning and the Self	31
The Politics of Deconstruction	34
Derrida, Adorno and Heidegger	38
2 Jacques Lacan: A Philosophical Rethinking of Freud	45
The Early Lacan	49
Language, Subjectivity and Historicity	60
The Influence of Structuralism	69
Lacan's Reformulation of Basic Concepts	81
3 Lacan and Derrida: Individuality and Symbolic Order	87
Lacan and Derrida on Language and Meaning	91
The Symbolic, Power and Desire	102
4 Jean-François Lyotard: From Perception to Desire	109
Discourse and its Other in Lyotard	112

Lyotard and Lacan on the Unconscious	119
The Politics of Desire	128
The Impasse of Libidinal Economy	138
5 Michel Foucault: Power and Subjectivity	144
Foucault and the Frankfurt School	150
Power and Resistance	161
6 Michel Foucault: Power and Knowledge	171
Foucault and Nietzsche	177
Genealogy and the Critique of Ideology	186
Foucault and Habermas	192
7 Foucault and Lyotard: The Politics of Truth	200
Nietzsche on Truth	203
Perspectivism in Foucault and Lyotard	206
The Reflexive Problem	213
The Return to Truth	216
Conclusion: Intersubjectivity and the Logic of Disintegration	220
The Logic of Disintegration	224
The Move to Intersubjectivity	226
The Position of Post-structuralism	228
Lacan and Habermas on Intersubjectivity	234
Notes	243
Index	265