

Table of contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Foreword | 7 |
| Hilary Putnam Rules, attunement, and "applying words to the world" The struggle to understand Wittgenstein's vision of language | 9 |
| Linda M. G. Zerilli Wittgenstein Between pragmatism and deconstruction | 25 |
| Henry Staten Wittgenstein's deconstructive legacy | 43 |
| Allan Janik Wittgenstein's critical hermeneutics: from physics to aesthetics | 63 |
| Stephen Mulhall Deconstruction and the ordinary | 75 |
| James Conant A prolegomenon to the reading of later Wittgenstein | 93 |
| Chantal Mouffe Wittgenstein and the ethos of democracy | 131 |
| David Owen Democracy, perfectionism and "undetermined messianic hope" Cavell, Derrida and the ethos of democracy-to-come | 139 |
| Ludwig Nagl "How hard I find it to see what is right in front of me" Wittgenstein's quest for "simplicity and ordinariness" | 157 |
| Notes on contributors | 163 |
| | 5 |