

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Introduction	ix
 Part One: “It’s Ecstasy that Matters”
1 Contemplation, Solitude, Love	3
2 Memory and A-linear Time	25
3 Ecstasy and Emptiness	45
 Part Two: “If Only I Could Write!”
4 Ecstasy and Ineffability	71
5 The Artistic Re-Creation of Ecstasy	91
 Part Three: “Communication is Health”
6 A-linear Time and Stream of Consciousness	115
7 “The Caves Shall Connect”: Polyphony and Decentering in Woolf and Gide	137
8 “To Be Continuing to Live”: A-linear Time and the Novel	161
 Bibliography
Bibliography	183
Index	189
About the author	193