

Contents

Acknowledgements	ix
Preface: The Two Cultures and the Two Kingdoms	x
PART I THE USEFULNESS OF SCIENCE
1 Omnescience	3
2 Poets, Scientists and Rainbows	11
3 The Eunuch at the Orgy: Reflections on the Significance of F. R. Leavis	29
4 'The Murderousness and Gadgetry of this Age'	42
5 Anti-Science and Organic Daydreams	55
6 Epilogue: The Consequences of Omnescience	68
PART II THE USELESSNESS OF ART
Introduction	77
7 Misunderstanding Art: The Freezing Coachman Reflections on Art and Morality	79
8 Misunderstanding Art: The Myth of Enrichment	94
9 Metaphysical Interlude: The Uselessness of Consciousness	111
10 The Difficulty of Arrival	126
Life as a Problem	126
Art as a Solution	150
Objections	162
Conclusion	204

Postscript: Art, Science and the Future of Human Consciousness	209
Notes and References	214
Index	255