

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	I
I
The Nature of the Problem and the Meaning of Agriculture
1 The Nature of the Problem	11
2 Farming: What It Is, What It's For, How It Became and How It Works	43
II
Food: The Future Belongs to the Gourmet
3 Good Farming, Good Eating and Great Gastronomy: A Lightning Tour of Modern Nutritional Theory and the Wondrous Serendipity	105
4 Meat: How Did We Get It So Wrong?	139
5 Food Unsafe	148
III
Science, Money and World Power
6 Craft, Science, and the Growing of Crops	185
7 Better Crops, Better Livestock: The Craft and Science of Breeding and Genetic Engineering	221

8	GMOs and the Corruption of Science	250
9	Of Cash and Values	279

IV

Enlightened Agriculture

10	Alternatives off the Shelf: Vegetarians and Organic Farmers	327
11	Biology, Morality, Aesthetics: The Meaning of Enlightened Agriculture	352
12	From Where We Are to Where We Want to Be	381
13	Afterword	411
	Further Reading	425
	Index	431