

Contents

I. Introduction .....	7
II. Baudelaire: A Precursor .....	14
(i) Baudelaire and Wagner .....	14
(ii) Baudelaire and Delacroix: synaesthesia .....	19
(iii) Poetry and kinetics .....	25
(iv) Conclusion .....	27
III. Symbolist Poets and Music: The Background .....	29
(i) An Introductory Outline .....	29
(ii) The Symbolist poets' reaction to music .....	31
(iii) The basis for a musical theory of poetry .....	33
(iv) Conclusion .....	35
IV. The Musical Use of Verbal Sound: Rhythm .....	38
(i) Rhythm and the alexandrine .....	38
(ii) The Romantic poets and Baudelaire .....	45
(iii) Verlaine's technical revolution .....	48
(iv) Mallarmé and 'vers libéré' .....	57
(v) The Symbolists and 'vers libre' .....	59
(vi) Conclusion .....	64
V. The Musical Use of Verbal Sound: Repetition .....	69
(i) Sound values: an outline .....	69
(ii) Wyzewa, a Symbolist spokesman .....	72
(iii) Sound and sense .....	76
(iv) The function of sound patterns .....	78
(v) Baudelaire and sound patterns .....	84
(vi) Verlaine's contribution .....	86
(vii) The Symbolists' use of sound patterns .....	89
VI. The Musical Use of Verbal Meaning .....	95
(i) Music and poetic imagery .....	95
(ii) Towards musical imagery .....	97
(iii) Polyvalency and vagueness .....	103
(iv) Musical terms in Symbolist poetry .....	105
(v) Conclusion .....	112

VII. Mallarmé and the ‘Transposition au Livre’ .....	116
(i) Mallarmé’s musical experience .....	116
(ii) Mallarmé in the 1860s .....	117
(iii) Music in Mallarmé’s correspondence 1862–71 .....	118
(iv) Mallarmé and ‘La Dernière Mode’ 1874 .....	121
(v) Mallarmé’s idealism .....	124
(vi) The musicalisation of Mallarmé’s poetry .....	127
(vii) The response to Wagner .....	129
(viii) The defence of poetry: I .....	132
(ix) The defence of poetry: II .....	140
(x) ‘Un Coup de dés’ .....	146
(xi) Conclusion .....	147
Bibliography .....	149
Index .....	153