

Acknowledgements	5
Editor's Introduction	9
Introduction	11
Part One: Existing theories of consumer behaviour
1 Academic theories of consumer behaviour	19
2 Practitioners' theories	38
3 Consumer behaviour and the market: some myths and theories	47
Part Two: Towards a new psychological theory
4 Towards an attitude theory	63
5 Expectancy-value theory	69
6 Fishbein's theory: an exposition	74
Appendix to Chapter 6: an application of Fishbein's theory	92
7 Some further cognitive theories	102
Part Three: Examples and applications
8 Consumer behaviour research now	115
9 Applied work with expectancy-value theory	126
10 End-piece	132
References and Name Index	137
Subject Index	143