

|                |   |     |
|----------------|---|-----|
| 6       | Commerce and the language of value   | 75  |
|                | JOHN O'NEILL  |     |
| 7       | Restoring the moral dimension in social scientific accounts: a qualified ethical naturalist approach                 | 93  |
|                | ANDREW SAYER  |     |
| PART IV |   |     |
|                | Objectivity and everyday knowledge   | 115 |
| 8       | Objectivity and the growth of knowledge  | 117 |
|                | MARGARET S. ARCHER  |     |
| 9       | Practical knowledge and realism: linking Andrew Collier on lay knowledge to Karl Popper on the philosophy of science | 129 |
|                | JUSTIN CRUICKSHANK  |     |
| 10      | Being and knowledge  | 143 |
|                | JONATHAN JOSEPH   |     |
| PART V  |   |     |
|                | Objectivity and materialism  | 159 |
| 11      | Towards objectivity: from Kant to Marx   | 161 |
|                | JOLYON AGAR   |     |
| 12      | The contradictions of capital  | 183 |
|                | CHRISTOPHER J. ARTHUR   |     |
| 13      | Understanding objectivity in a material world  | 199 |
|                | PHIL WALDEN   |     |

PART VI

|                                    |     |
|------------------------------------|-----|
| Objectivity and reflexivity | 211 |
|------------------------------------|-----|

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 14 Reason and its own self-undoing? | 213 |
|--|-----|

ALAN MONTEFIORE

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 15 Intentional and reflexive objectivity: some reflections | 226 |
|---|-----|

WILLIAM OUTHWAITE

PART VII

|                               |     |
|-------------------------------|-----|
| Objectivity and nature | 237 |
|-------------------------------|-----|

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| 16 Realism about the value of nature? Andrew Collier's environmental philosophy | 239 |
|--|-----|

TED BENTON

|   |     |
|---|-----|
| 17 Objectivity, experience and the aesthetic of nature | 251 |
|---|-----|

KATE SOPER

|              |     |
|--------------|-----|
| Index | 261 |
|--------------|-----|