Contents

	Preface	viii
	List of abbreviations	xi
1	Introduction: Development and Surplus Life	1
	Foregrounding the liberal problematic of security	2
	Linking biopolitics, liberalism and development	4
	Surplus population and accumulation by dispossession	9
	Slavery and excess freedom	12
	Separating development and underdevelopment biopolitically	16
	The divergence of insured and non-insured life	19
	From internal war to global instability	24
	Occupation and contingent sovereignty	27
	Disturbing the boundaries of time and space	29
2	NGOs, Permanent Emergency and Decolonization	32
	Total war and the paradox of biopolitics	34
	NGOs and total war	36
	The colonial inheritance	39
	Expansion without imperial reconciliation	42
	Emergency and the dilemma of development	46
	Cold War liminality and non-state sovereignty	51
	Sustainable development: knowledge makes free	55
	The question of agency: being the right type	59
	Postscript	64
3	The Emergence of Contingent Sovereignty	66
	From modernization to sustainable development	67
	Emergency and contingent sovereignty	70

Negotiated access and the humanitarian boom 75
Contingent sovereignty and the external frontier 78

4 Mozambique, Governmentalization and Non-material Development 82
The background to a 'complex emergency' 83
The changing relationship with NGOs 87
War and the destruction of culture 92
The re-emergence of social cohesion 96
Opposing economic differentiation 98
Non-material development 101
Gender, natural economy and land 105
Concluding remarks 109

5 Human Security and Global Danger 111
Human security as a technology of governance 112
Internal war and the crisis of containment 115
Globalizing versus containing tendencies 119
Reinstating the state 121
Containing underdevelopment 123
Unending war, human security and NGOs 126
Concluding remarks 131

6. Afghanistan, Coherence and Taliban Rule 133
From negotiation to coercion 133
The strategic framework for Afghanistan 137
Development and security in practice 142
Aid and peace-building in a failed state 144
The limits of principled engagement 146
The problematization of state-based politics 151
UNSMA and the critique of aid 154
Concluding remarks 157

7. Fragile States and Native Administration 159
Fragility and global instability 160
Contingent sovereignty and non-material development 163
The governance state 165
The fragile state and liberal imperialism 170
Technologies of post-interventionary governance 180
Concluding remarks 182

8. Racism, Circulation and Security 184
The collapse of the national–international dichotomy 185
From race war to racism 188
Liberalism, imperialism and culture 191
Decolonization and the new racism 197
Racism and anti-racism 200
Conjoining the internal and external frontiers 203
Migration and the European state of exception 206
The changing regime of internal development 209
Concluding remarks 213

9. Conclusion: From Containment to Solidarity 215
The biopolitics of insured and non-insured life 216
Development and emergency 218
Governmentalizing petty sovereignty 220
The biopolitics of unending war 223
Is there an alternative development? 227
The solidarity of the governed 232

References 235
Index 256