Part IV Categorical perception in other modalities and other species

9	Perceptual categories in vision and audition Marc H. Bornstein	287
10	Categorical perception of sound signals: Facts and hypotheses from animal studies Günter Ehret	301
11	A naturalistic view of categorical perception Charles T. Snowdon	332
12	The special-mechanisms debate in speech research: Categorization tests on animals and infants Patricia K. Kuhl	355
13	Brain mechanisms in categorical perception Martha Wilson	387

Part V Psychophysiological indices of categorical perception

14	Electrophysiological indices of categorical perception for speech Dennis L. Molfese	421
15	Evoked potentials and color-defined categories D. Regan	444

Part VI Higher-order categories

16	Categorization processes and categorical perception Douglas L. Medin and Lawrence W. Barsalou	455
17	Developmental changes in category structure Frank C. Keil and Michael H. Kelly	491
18	Spatial categories: The perception and conceptualization of spatial relations Ellen Bialystok and David R. Olson	511

Part VII Cognitive foundations

19	Category induction and representation Stevan Harnad	535
