

Contents

| | | |
|---|-----|--|
| Preface | | |
| E. Sunderland and M. T. Smith | xii | |
| | | |
| 1. Introduction | | |
| M. R. A. Chance | 1 | |
| | | |
| 2. The Social Structure of Attention and the Operation of Intelligence | | |
| M. R. A. Chance | 5 | |
| | | |
| 3. Opportunism and the Rise of Intelligence | | |
| Christopher E. Parker | 19 | |
| | | |
| 4. Aspects of the Evolution of Intelligence: Problem-solving and the Environment | | |
| M. J. Waterhouse | 37 | |
| | | |
| 5. The Unlearned in Learning | | |
| Paul Leyhausen | 71 | |
| | | |
| 6. Flexibility as a Frame of Mind | | |
| Liam Hudson | 87 | |
| | | |
| 7. Nature's Psychologists | | |
| Nicholas Humphrey | 101 | |
| | | |
| Index | | |
| | 121 | |