CONTENTS

Introduction: Structural Inhibition of Media Freedom and Plurality across Europe 9
Andrea Czepek, Melanie Hellwig and Eva Nowak

Part One: Concepts
Measuring Media Freedom: Approaches of International Comparison 23
Markus Behmer

Pluralism and Participation as Desired Results of Press Freedom: Measuring Media System Performance 37
Andrea Czepek

Is the Clash of Rationalities Leading Nowhere? Media Pluralism in European Regulatory Policies 45
Beata Klimkiewicz

The Challenges of ICT to Media Pluralism 75
Lilia Raycheva

Press Freedom and Pluralism on the Micro Level: Journalistic Qualifications and Professionalization 91
Eva Nowak

Media Systems, Equal Rights and the Freedom of the Press: Gender as a Case in Point 101
Elisabeth Klaus

Media Governance and Media Quality Management: Theoretical Concepts and an Empirical Example from Switzerland 115
Vinzenz Wyss and Guido Keel
Part Two: Conditions (Case Studies)
Assessing Pluralism and the Democratic Performance of the Media in a Small Country: Setting a Comparative Research Agenda for the Baltic States
Aukšė Balčytienė

Media in Poland and Public Discourse
Ryszard Filas and Paweł Planeta

Mass Media Developments in Bulgaria
Lilia Raycheva

Press Freedom and Media Pluralism in Romania: Facts, Myths and Paradoxes
Mihai Coman

Media Freedom and Pluralism in the United Kingdom (UK)
Peter Humphreys

Mind the Gap? Press Freedom and Pluralism in Finland
Inka Salovaara-Moring

Pre-Conditions for Press Freedom in Germany
Andrea Czepek, Melanie Hellwig and Eva Nowak

The Austrian Media System: Strong Media Conglomerates and an Ailing Public Service Broadcaster
Martina Thiele

Pluralism in the French Broadcasting System: Between the Legacy of History and the Challenges of New Technologies
Thierry Vedel

The Freedom of the Spanish Press
Ingrid Schulze-Schneider

Pluralism of Information in the Television Sector in Italy: History and Contemporary Conditions
Cinzia Padovani

The Authors