

Contents

List of Figures	vii
List of Tables	viii
List of Abbreviations	ix
Notes on the Contributors	xi
Series Preface	xvi
Preface	xviii
Introduction Joan DeBardeleben and Achim Hurrelmann	1
Part I Multilevel Governance and Democratic Legitimacy: Conceptual Issues	15
1 Multilevel Legitimacy: Conceptualizing Legitimacy Relationships between the EU and National Democracies Achim Hurrelmann	17
2 Federalism and Democratic Accountability Jennifer Smith	38
3 Between Anarchy and Hierarchy: Governance Lessons from Global Economic Institutions Randall D. Germain	59
Part II Social Underpinnings of Democracy in the EU	75
4 Europeanization and Democracy: the Question of Cultural Identity Gerard Delanty	77
5 The Quest for a European Public Sphere: News Media and Democratic Legitimacy Harmut Wessler, Michael Brüggemann, Katharina Kleinen-von Königslöw, Stefanie Sifft and Andreas Wimmel	94

6	Is There a European Society? Social Conditions for Democracy in the EU Achim Hurrelmann	117
---	---	-----

Part III	Political Participation in the EU's Multilevel System	137
-----------------	--	------------

7	European Elections and Democratic Accountability: the 2004 Elections to the European Parliament Lawrence LeDuc	139
8	National Parliaments and the Future of European Integration: Learning to Play the Multilevel Game Tapio Raunio	158
9	Organized Civil Society and Input Legitimacy in the EU Justin Greenwood	177

Part IV	EU Enlargement, Democracy and Multilevel Governance	195
----------------	--	------------

10	Euroscepticism as a Path for Inclusion: Multilevel Governance in the EU as Seen from the East David Ost	197
11	Gender Equality and Multilevel Governance in East Central Europe Yvonne Galligan and Sara Clavero	216

	Conclusion Joan DeBardeleben and Achim Hurrelmann	240
--	---	-----

	Select Bibliography	244
--	----------------------------	-----

	Index	250
--	--------------	-----

List of Figures

1.1	Types of legitimacy relationships between EU and nation state	20
5.1	Policies as main subject of articles	105
5.2	Observation of other countries	107
5.3	Origin of discursive references	108
5.4	Collective identification: 'we' references	110
6.1	Trust in national institutions and the EU, 2005	121
6.2	Poverty rates in European nation states (%)	125
6.3	Income thresholds for the calculation of poverty rates (1000 PPS)	126
6.4	National and European identities	128
7.1	Seats in the European Parliament, June 2004, by party groups	142
7.2	Proximity of national elections to the June 2004 European Parliament elections	145
7.3	Turnout in European Parliament elections, 1979–2004	154
11.1	Women's Parliamentary representation in east central Europe, 1990 and 2005	217

List of Tables

5.1	Three dimensions of Europeanization	102
5.2	Trends and levels of transnationalization	111
7.1	Net changes in the European Parliament, by party groups, 1999–2004	144
7.2	Net gains or losses by the principal governing party in the 2004 European Parliament elections (% of vote)	147
7.3	Turnout in the June 2004 European Parliament elections compared with turnout in national elections	151
7.4	Turnout in European Parliament elections, 1979–2004	153
8.1	The main problems facing national parliaments vis-à-vis their governments in EU matters	165
8.2	EU governance models and the position of national parliaments	168
11.1	EU gender equality directives	222
11.2	Attitudes towards women as political leaders	224
11.3	Equal opportunities laws in east central Europe	226
11.4	Gender equality: central government infrastructure	231